

Dome home gets national attention

Tune into the Travel Channel tonight to check out an exotic Pensacola Beach home.

The dome-shaped house, built to withstand hurricanes, will be featured at 8 p.m. on "Amazing Vacation Homes," a new show that will take you inside some coastal houses.

"With back-to-back hurricanes, it's a perfect time for this type of structure to come to the national forefront," said the home owner, Mark Sigler, whose original beach house was severely damaged by three hurricanes.

If you miss tonight's episode, catch the reruns at 11 p.m. Tuesday, at 3 p.m. Sunday, at 8:30 p.m. Sept. 27 and at 11:30 p.m. Sept. 28.

News Journal file photo

For a preview of the home, go to domeofahome.com or zdomes.com.

From staff reports